THE URBAN FUTURES MONTHLY

Stay up to date with the latest news from the Urban Futures Platform

Dear Colleagues and Friends,

I am happy to update you on the following pieces of news on the Platform's activities before the summer break starts:

- Our Brown Bag Lunch get heat-free and will be back in October with new input from our platform researchers. We will circulate the program in September.
- The "Hot Off The Press" Book Presentation Series 2024 is over but we are happy to announce, that the Series 2025 will start with more exciting presentations from October on. Also on this series more info will circulate in September.
- Until the exact dates are fixed, you can find the previous presentations on our YouTube Channel: UrbanFutures - YouTube

- The incoming student Paolo Anzalone has finished the work for his master's thesis in Vienna, you can read more about it on our Website

I hope to see you soon at these upcoming events and wish you a nice summer.

Kind regards,
Yuri Kazepov

'Infrastructuring Libraries in Transformation' (ILIT)

ILIT is a JPI Urban Europe research project examining how public libraries in Rotterdam, Malmö and Vienna address systemic challenges in rapidly transforming societies. It unpacks libraries' transformative capacities through the lens of 'infrastructuring' and 'librarising', with a keen eye on ways to address conflict between different views and positions productively.

In this brown bag lunch the international project partners discuss their fresh research material on institutional support that aims at exploring the politics of library networks in each city.

Justus Uitermark

Justus Uitermark (University of Amsterdam) is presenting the book he just published with John D. Boy (Leiden University).

On Display: Instagram, the Self, and the City (2024) is a book about how people remake their worlds through social media. Drawing on sociological theory, long-term qualitative inquiry in Amsterdam, and computational analyses, Boy and Uitermark argue that grasping the power of Instagram—and other social media platforms—requires seeing them not as digital networks of communication and sharing, but as a stage for the expression and affirmation of social status.
