How Spaces Become Places - Place Makers Tell Their Stories (2021)

URBAN SPACE

We are happily looking forward to our HOT OFF THE PRESS edition with

John Forester

25.05.2022 // 17:00 - 18:30 // online (Zoom)

The Author will be discussing his book "How Spaces Become Places - Place Makers Tell Their Stories" together with Tommaso Vitale as a discussant. This will be an online event using the zoom platform. After each presentation, there will also be time for a Q&A and discussion.

These are stories of community members acting together to transform empty, contested, or unsafe spaces into functional, safe, convivial places. A diverse set of place makers, from activists to architects, mediators to planners, spanning four countries and ten US locales tell their stories in their own words. The complex and challenging cases range from building affordable housing to community building in the aftermath of racial violence. After grappling with issues like immigration, climate change, and coalition-building, place makers recount how they worked alongside once-suspicious community residents to enhance and enrich the places in which they live.

STATEMENT

UniVie stands with Ukraine

The University of Vienna stands with the Ukrainian people in defending their freedom and democracy. We pay respect to all those people in the Russian Federation who oppose the criminal policies of their government. We stand in solidarity with our colleagues and the students of Ukraine and will take measures to support them.

COMMUNITY GROUP

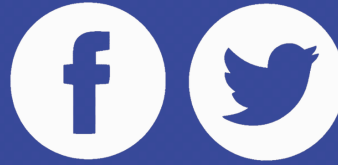

SCIENCE FOR UKRAINE

#ScienceForUkraine IS A COMMUNITY GROUP OF VOLUNTEER STUDENTS AND RESEARCH SCIENTISTS FROM ACADEMIC INSTITUTIONS IN EUROPE AND AROUND THE WORLD.

The mission is to collect and disseminate information about support opportunities at the university, national, and international level for graduate students and researchers directly affiliated to an academic institution in Ukraine.
